

Claudius VOSS - ANT

Munich

VOSS fought in DZHIKHE's anti-Bolshevik army from 1918-20. Until 1923 he was in the Bulgarian army. He joined the ROWS in 1923 where he was adjutant to its chief Gen. ABRAMOV; he also headed this organization's intelligence section and its OCS. He established contact with the British and Rumanian ISs in 1926-27 for the purpose of securing anti-Soviet intelligence. Later on he was charged with the organization of the VI for the ROWS, and acted as chief of this unit when ABRAMOV was put in charge of all ROWS intelligence. In the early 1930s the British began to lose interest in VOSS, claiming that he had too many Soviet agents. In 1935 VOSS set up contact with the German IS and furnished them with anti-Soviet information. This lasted until 1941. When the Russo-Finnish war broke out VOSS reestablished contact with the British IS in Finland, and when the Russo-German war started he and many of his agents volunteered to help the Germans. VOSS and company operated from then on with the Germans in all the various sectors of the Eastern Front. He was captured in May 1945, and released at the end of 1945. He went to Munich and with the help of Gen. TUKKIL was able to get a job in the MOISSKEFF construction company which would serve him as cover in his anti-Soviet activities.

VOSS submitted a plan of proposed operations and claimed to be ready to undertake both positive and counter-intelligence work against the Soviets. He will submit reports on military, political, and economic targets in the USSR and the Soviet-controlled territories. He also wishes to establish contact with various resistance groups in Soviet held areas, and to place agents in the various Soviet-infiltrated agencies such as UNRRA, the EPD, as well as some of the pro-Soviet intelligence networks in Central Europe such as those operated by AMOCHIN, SCHEIKO, etc.

for us by RADISH, one of our agents, through Michail POTOTSKI who works for VOSS. He was originally approached by RADISH through a sub-source and asked if he was ready to resume his anti-Communist work. VOSS replied "Yes, if this is not a work of mere provocation, but an earnest anti-Bolshevist work." Since that time he has furnished us with 13 RIRs acting as a sub-source. These have dealt with various anti-Soviet groups, information on the ANOCHIN pro-Soviet intelligence network, various French and Soviet intelligence personalities, and Soviet CB information.
